

CHIHUAHUA PEOPLE ARRIVE AT OJINAGA

Civilians and Soldiers End 185 Mile Journey Through the Desert to U. S. Border

ENDURE GREAT HARDSHIPS

Travelers Suffer Hardships for Want of Food and Water—Quiet Start Enables Them to Reach Border Before Rebels

PRESENT SPECTACLE OF DESPAIR

PRESIDIO, Texas, Dec. 8.—The complete rout of Huerta's federal army in northern Mexico with the frantic flight of his generals was established with the arrival today at Ojinaga, Mexico opposite Presidio of the civilians and soldiers who deserted Chihuahua City.

In the remarkable hegira that struggled for eight days over a 185 mile trail through the desert and endured great hardships for want of food and water were General Salvador Merced, Huerta's deposed military governor and commander of the federal troops in the north; General Pascual Orozco, General Antonio Rojas, General Marcelo Caravajal, General Ynez Salazar and a host of subordinate officers. They presented their posts in fear of General Francisco Villa's army and virtually had surrendered the rebels at Chihuahua the state capital and the largest of the far northern cities.

Spectacle of Despair.
Along with them came burdened with what property they could carry, men, women and children representing some of the richest families in the republic. Their flight with the army was in the face of reports that they might expect no mercy should they fall into the hands of the rebels. Luis Terrazas, a wealthy land owner, reported to own half of the state of Chihuahua, was said to have brought with him a vast fortune in cash, fearing it might be looted by the rebels if he remained in the evacuated city. Witnesses viewing the oncoming throng from the hills at Ojinaga reported that the refugees were scattered in a thin line for several miles into the interior and that the dusty confusion of broken down wagons, disabled artillery and mingling of disheartened soldiers and famished civilians as they slowly moved over the desert presented a spectacle of despair.

Their arrival formed one of the most tragic incidents of the present revolution. Many who had started out in vehicles later marched on foot, scores who attempted to carry their treasures had to abandon them through sheer weariness so that their tracks were literally strewn with discarded clothing, bric-a-brac and valued trinkets, which they had hoped to carry to safety.
It was impossible to estimate the number of refugees, but observers said they would total several thousand. Whether the federal officers and soldiers would attempt to seek refuge in the United States was not made known upon their arrival. Just before the approach of the federals whose oncoming was announced by twenty exhausted soldiers early in the day the few rebels at Ojinaga who were greatly outnumbered by the advancing federals left their garrison and retreated to the field. This left the way open for the federals to advance to the Rio Grande river without fighting.

Get Early Start on Rebels.
General Villa's rebel forces had been in pursuit of the fugitives but the federals by vacating the city unaware had an advantage in point of time and Villa's forces were unable to overtake them.

There was no indication of what action the rebel leaders might take in view of the assembling of so large a force of federals on the border. It was the belief that if they were not attacked the federals might occupy the small Ojinaga garrison indefinitely and thus enable General Merced to procure orders from Mexico City.

Refugees Crossing Border.
Then civilian refugees began to cross over to the American side late tonight.

On information that the federal troops also might attempt to cross, all the United States cavalry at Marfa and nearby border points came to Presidio but none of the federals came over. The federals appeared to be active in fortifying the town.
General Salazar was in communication with Mexico City tonight.

Formally Occupies City.
Juarez, Dec. 8.—Assuming military command over a large area of northern Mexico, General Francisco Villa, the rebel leader today formally occupied Chihuahua the state capital.
An official report of the rebel leaders occupation of the city with his army was received at military headquarters here through a message carried by courier to Sauz, a point thirty miles north of Chihuahua and thence by telegraph. Villa himself occupied the quarters vacated by General Merced. The rebel troops were placed in the garrison and the executive branch of the rebel army occupied the state capital.

Family Reported Gone.
Mexico City, Dec. 8.—Provisional President Huerta's family again is reported to have left the capital. A PRESIDENT'S VISIT TO CAPITOL UNEXPECTED

NATION'S HEAD STROLLS THROUGH LEGISLATIVE HALLS TO HIS ROOM

On Long Walk, Taken on the Advice of His Physician, the President Slips Into the Capitol Unobserved and Surprises Sightseers in Private Room.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—President Wilson went to the capitol today—not to deliver a message or to confer personally with members of congress, as has been his custom since he took office and began breaking century-old precedents—but to faze at the nation's legislative halls.
The president's visit was unexpected. He had slipped into the capitol unobserved, climbed the fatiguing ascent of steps at the west entrance and was one of a group of sightseers in the rotunda before word spread through the halls that the president was in the building. The president was accompanied by his physician Dr. Cary Grayson, U. S. N., and capitol guides not knowing whether the distinguished guests came for their attention stood at a distance. After a few minutes the president slipped through the crowd to Statuary Hall and later walked on to the house side. Just as he reached the end of one corridor he stopped suddenly.

"Oh its on the other side," he remarked and bystanders knew he meant the president's room and had lost his bearings. On his way back toward the senate side of the building, the president paused a moment before the statue of Thomas Jefferson. Passing on, he met Senator Hughes and in answer to the Senator's surprised query he answered that he was merely taking a stroll.

He shook hands with Senators Shively, Chamberlain and others and finally arrived at the president's room.

A moment later Senator Ashurst showing some feminine constituents about said:

"And here we come to the president's room the most valuable furnished room in the building—" someone stepped up with the information that the president was inside.

"Oh it surely is the most valuable furnished room now," he said laughing. "Senators don't go in when the president is there unless he sends for them."

The president found a crowd of sightseers in his room. They filed out quickly behind the professional guides.

Mr. Wilson stopped only a moment to chat with Secretary James M. Baker of the senate and Senator Martine of New Jersey and then left the building. Both houses of congress were in session but the president entered neither chamber.

The president swung out in the capitol grounds, continuing his long walk.
He wore no overcoat and one woman he passed remarked audibly to another "he should no be out without an overcoat."

The president took the walk on the advice of his physician who thought the president needed the fresh air after his long confinement.

CHIEF JUSTICE ASKS FULL PARDON FOR JOSHUA TEDFORD

CHICAGO, Dec. 8.—Chief Justice Theodore Brandt of the criminal court today said that he had written to Governor Dunne asking that a full pardon be granted to Joshua Tedford, superintendent of a downtown clothing store here of whom it recently was discovered that he never served a sentence passed on him when he was found guilty of obstructing justice, seven years ago.

MONTGOMERY WARD DIES.

A Montgomery Ward, founder of the first mail order house and equally well known as the "watch dog of the Chicago lake front," died Sunday at his residence in Highland Park. He was seventy years of age but mentally keen to the last.

rent here today was to the effect that the members of the president's household had gone to Guadalupe, the capital of the state of Jalisco, from where it was said they would go to the Pacific port of Manzanillo, in the state of Colima.

Captain Luis Fuentes, President Huerta's son-in-law, Mrs. Fuentes and Miss Elena Huerta, another daughter were in the party that left for Guadalupe. It was reported that the president's wife also left the capital but this is not confirmed.

WILSON DECLINES TO USE INFLUENCE

Committee of Woman Suffrage Association Urges President to Aid Their Cause

WILL NOT VIOLATE HIS RULE

Executive Asserts That He Has Rule Not to Urge Anything Upon Congress, the Subject of Organic Consideration

WITHHOLDS HIS PERSONAL VIEWS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—Woman suffrage—the question which has vigorously projected itself on the political forum—confronted President Wilson today in the person of sixty members of the National American Suffrage association, who pleaded that he use his influence with congress to obtain the ballot for women. It was the first time the president had been brought face to face with the issue in a formal way. He told his callers that whatever might be his personal views on woman suffrage or any other subject he had made it a rule not to urge anything upon congress "that had been the subject of organic consideration" by the Democratic party of which he considered himself the spokesman.

In Favor of Committee.
The president said that when the members of congress consulted him he would freely give his views and he added that having already been asked his opinion about the organization of a standing committee in the house of representatives to consider woman suffrage he had expressed himself in favor of such a committee.

It was a quiet, earnest group of suffragettes who stood in a circle with the president in his center in the white house offices.

Defy Freezing Gale.
Most of them had walked in defiance of a freezing gale, enthusiastic about their mission and determined to get a definite expression from the chief executive.

"This is not merely to be a handshaking affair," remarked one of the leaders to the assembled group.
"Dr. Shaw will do all the talking and the handshaking."

The president nodded pleasantly to the women and Dr. Shaw stepped forward. In a low voice she told in a simple way how unavailing had been the frequent pilgrimages of the frequent pilgrimages of the women to Washington heretofore and how courteously but had buried their case.

Suggests Three Ways.
She appealed to the president, "in the spirit of justice," to urge upon congress by message to pass an amendment to the federal constitution to be submitted to the states that would give woman the right to vote. She suggested three ways for the president to help the cause of suffrage—by a special message on the subject, a reference to it in any general message he might send or the use of his influence to obtain the appointment of a standing committee in the house of representatives to consider the subject as the senate had done.

The president listened in silence.
He had not been asked for his own views on woman suffrage, so he did not give them. On the proposal to send a message to congress he cited his rule of adhering to party policies intimating that when consulted by members of congress he might give his views freely. There was a pause after the president finished speaking, an air of not having quite been satisfied and Dr. Shaw resumed.

"Since we are not members of any political party," she asked, "who is going to speak for us—there is no one to speak for us—"

"I realize that," interjected the president.

"—unless we speak for ourselves."
"And you do that very admirably," rejoined Mr. Wilson, and a general laugh broke the solemnity of the occasion.

"I should like to shake hands with as many of you as want," added the president smilingly and several women stepped forward. Others hung back and drifted out of the office. Those who remained behind spoke cordially to the president of his courtesy in receiving the delegation after his illness and some referred to having voted for him in suffrage states. The women filed out into the teeth of the wind in threes and fours to ponder over what the president had said.

INTERNATIONAL COMMITTEE TO PROTECT WILD ANIMALS

BERNE, Switzerland, Dec. 8.—An international committee for the protection of wild animals is organizing its forces at its headquarters in Basel for a world wide campaign.
Seventeen countries were represented including the United States. There are now in Africa only 400,000 elephants and these are being killed at the rate of 40,000 a year. The committee will not only devote itself to animals but will attempt to put an end to the slow extermination of the primitive animals of Australia and South America.

WAR DEPARTMENT TO AID FLOOD VICTIMS

RATIONS AND BLANKETS ORDERED RUSHED TO TEXAS

Number of Known Dead in the Overflowed Districts of the Lone Star State Reaches 150 With Thousands of Refugees Suffering Great Hardships From the Cold and Exposure.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—Aid for the sufferers from the disastrous flood in Texas has been extended by the war department upon the basis of reports from Brigadier General Bliss, commanding the American troops on the Mexican border has for the moment turned his attention from the war game to works of mercy.

Reports from Lieut. Col. Krouthoff, who was sent to Bryan, Texas, and Lieut. Broan at College Station were embodied by General Bliss in this statement to the war department.

"Consulted with citizens' relief committee and estimate there were 14,000 people in the bottoms before the flood—10,000 negroes and 4,000 whites. Approximately 4,000 had been rescued and 10,000 still are in the bottoms marooned in gin houses and on roofs of houses. Practically all are destitute and rations and blankets are needed. There are one hundred tents obtained from a college. One thousand more rations are needed for ten days or two weeks and it is recommended that 20,000 rations and 10,000 blankets be rushed to Bryan for immediate issue."

General Bliss said he had collected the necessary rations and blankets and Secretary Garrison promptly ordered them to be sent forward.

Known Dead Reaches 150.
Houston, Tex., Dec. 8.—The number of known dead in the flood which has spread over the lowlands in half a dozen counties in south central Texas has reached 150 tonight with several thousand refugees marooned in half flooded cotton gins and dwelling houses, safe from the water for the time being but suffering from hunger and exposure.
Four-fifths of the dead were negro farm hands.

Of the dead the greater number lost their lives in the vicinity of Bryan where a thirty mile stretch of levee along the Brazos river crumbled. The Brazos crest tonight destroyed a dam near Richmond and flooded a state prison farm. The prisoners had been removed. Hempted in Waller county from which reports up to tonight had been meager reported twenty drowned and others missing. Reports from half a dozen other small towns in Waller and adjoining counties advanced the total fatalities to 150 in all.

The San Felipe section of Austin county received a shipment of meat or boats from Houston today and several hundred refugees were moved to safety. The great danger tonight was freezing and starvation.
For the second successive night ice was forecast over the thirty mile district about Bryan, where 1,800 persons, mostly negroes are marooned with little food or fire.

The crest of the Brazos flood was estimated tonight to be somewhere below Hempstead, about fifty miles from the mouth of the river.
The crest of the flood in the Colorado river is passing into the gulf tonight.

SEARCHER CLAIMS LOPEZ ROBBED HIM IN LOWER LEVEL

Greek Miner Asserts Bandit Relieved Him of Candles and Tobacco—Mine is Sealed Again.

Bingham, Utah, Dec. 8.—After a day filled with many alarms, the search for Ralph Lopez, Mexican gunman, developed tonight into a waiting game with no decision as to what the next step would be.
While the sheriffs were in council to act on a plan to resume smuggling the mine, a report that a Greek miner had been robbed by Lopez in a lower level broke up the meeting and sent them hurrying to the scene.

Claims Lopez Robbed Him.
Peter Karas came out of a tunnel late today with the announcement that Lopez had shoved a six-shooter into his ribs and relieved him of his tobacco and candles. Immediately afterward he asked the newspaper photographers to take his picture.

Believing that Lopez still was alive in the mine where he took refuge on November 27, Sheriff Smith today ordered out all the deputies to prevent a needless sacrifice of lives and had bulkheads placed at all the entrances of the mine.
If smudging operations are not resorted to it is said the tunnel mouths will be guarded until there is no doubt left that Lopez either is dead or has escaped.

KARLUK FROZEN IN ICE DRIFTS TO SEA

Arctic Explorer's Vessel Is Broke-en from Ashore by Gale and Is Drifting With the Ice

HAS CREW OF 25 ON BOARD

Stefansson With Hunting Party of Six Are Not Aboard Vessel But Despatch States
She Carries Company of 25

EXPLORER THINKS MARY SACHS SAFE

OTTAWA, Ont., Dec. 8.—Somewhere within the confines of the arctic circle is drifting Vilhjalmur Stefansson's staunch little vessel the Karluk, frozen in an ice pack, but the leader of the expedition is not with his vessel and is unaware of its present whereabouts, according to a dispatch received from the explorer himself today by George J.
DesBarats, deputy minister of naval affairs and acting minister of marine and fisheries.

Stefansson's message states that, believing the Karluk safe in the ice in longitude west 147, fifteen miles off shore, he took a party ashore to hunt. The next day heavy gales sprang up and then a fog. When the weather cleared the Karluk was not in sight and had undoubtedly been carried away by the wind which drove the ice pack off shore. So far the search for the Karluk has been unsuccessful. The message received today was dated October 30, from Port Barrow, Alaska and was sent overland from there to Circle from where it was dispatched December 5. The message reads:

"The Karluk beset by heavy ice on August 12, in longitude west 147, fifteen miles off shore, ship frozen in on August 15, and drifted with the ice until September 10, when the drift stopped. On September 20, believing the ship fast for the winter and it was necessary to obtain fresh meat I took Jenness, Mc-Connell, Wilkins and three Eskimos ashore to hunt. Northeast gales sprang up September 22 with snow and fog when the storm cleared on the 24th, the ice had gone and the Karluk with it. The ice undoubtedly went west before the wind. The Karluk may possibly have broken free and steamed east, but she probably remained fast and drifted west with the ice. Followed the coast west to Barrow but the Karluk has not been sighted. The schooners Sachs and Alaska with southern party are safe at Collinson Point.
The schooner Belvidere with cargo of freight and provisions, is wintering near the international boundary.
I am planning an ice expedition from the 145th meridian to the Mackenzie Delta, making survey and taking soundings for steamer route."

"The Karluk has on board a company of twenty-five, including Beau-chate, Mackay, Mamen, McKinley, Murray and Malloch with the members of the crew and five Eskimos." (Signed) "Stefansson."
The last message previous to today's was received from Stefansson early in August. At that time he reported that the Karluk had behaved well in a heavy storm and had rounded Point Hope on July 31.
The power schooners Mary Sachs which Stefansson on October 29 said in his message was safe at Collinson Point, was wrecked in the ice off the arctic coast of Alaska sometime previous to November 28, the date on which a letter was received at Nome Alaska from Peter Barnard, captain of the vessel telling of her loss.

The ice crushed the schooner into small bits and all provisions and scientific instruments were lost. The letter from Captain Barnard gave no details of the accident. As nothing was said of any injury to the men on the Mary Sachs it was presumed that they were safe.

The Mary Sachs was purchased by Stefansson for the use of his western party. She was a gasoline vessel. She carried a crew of three men.

WATER FAMINE CLOSES CINCINNATI SCHOOLS

TROUBLE IS CAUSED BY BURSTING OF ONE OF MAIN SUPPLY PIPES

Danger From Fire is Very Great in the Central Portion of the City and in Many of the Suburbs the Officials are Taking Every Precaution to Lessen This Hazard.

CINCINNATI, O., Dec. 8.—Schools were ordered closed today and great inconvenience is being caused by a water famine due to the bursting Saturday of one of the main supply pipes. The central portion of the city and many of the suburbs tonight are without water or with an inadequate supply and the situation is becoming worse. The drain on the Eden Park reservoirs, which supply the basin of the city, became so great that Mayor Hunt ordered that whatever water is left in them be cut off and used only in a fire emergency.

The danger from fire is very great and officials are taking every precaution to lessen this hazard.
Hotels, restaurants and saloons tonight are the chief sufferers as what water can be obtained is used only for the most vital purposes. One hospital is entirely without a water supply and the City Hospital and other large institutions are without water on their upper floors and may have none at all tomorrow.

McFarland-Britton Bout PROVES UNSATISFACTORY Although Packey Out Points His Opponent He Appeared Unable to Drop Him and Go is Reported Tame Affair.

Milwaukee, Wis., Dec. 8.—Pack-ey McFarland out-pointed his old enemy Jack Britton, both of Chicago, in an unsatisfactory ten round decision boxing contest before 6,500 spectators here tonight.

McFarland had the better of five rounds while four were even and one was Britton's. Both in the eighth and ninth Packey had Jack groggy but was unable to put him out.

Britton at times fought McFarland to a standstill and even outboxed him but this was only in flashes.
Throughout the battle McFarland smiled at the audience and seemed to be content with a lead over his lighter opponent.

The crowd jeered the boxers during most of the contest and there were numerous cries of "put 'em out," "stop the bout." Comparatively few heavy blows were struck and the crowd left the arena far from thinking they had their money's worth.

Britton was cheered when it was announced that he weighed in at three o'clock at 135 pounds. Packey's weight was not announced but it was reported that he weighed 146 pounds. He looked it.

The fight was the first in Milwaukee's big auditorium and the receipts were reported as being well over $10,000.

Harry Stout of Milwaukee was the third man in the ring.

WORLD CHAMPION ATHLETICS WILL STICK BY CONNIE MACK

NEW YORK, Dec. 8.—The Philadelphia Athletics, World Champions, have deserted the cause of the Baseball Players' Fraternity, its was reported here tonight. The organization is seeking numerous concessions from the major and minor leagues. The Athletics, it was declared refused to subscribe their names to a list of seventeen demands by Fultz, the Philadelphia players extending five miles south of Edwardsville, Illinois, bound from Springfield to St. Louis. Six passengers sleeping in the smoking compartment were awakened by the conductor in time to leap from the car down a twenty foot embankment.

COACH PROTESTS PROPOSED CHICAGO-HARVARD GAME

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Dec. 8.— In an address at a banquet given by the Minneapolis Athletic and Boat club here tonight in honor of the University of Minnesota football team Dr. H. L. Williams, coach of the Minnesota eleven, protested against the proposed Chicago-Harvard game.

"If Minnesota is barred from playing Michigan there is no possible reason why Chicago should be allowed to play Harvard or any other of the big non-conference teams," he declared.

GALE BRINGS SNOW AND COLD TO NEW ENGLAND

BOSTON, Mass., Dec. 8.—Accompanied by a sixty mile gale a storm swept New England today bringing snow and big drop in temperature.
Heavy rain preceded the drop in temperature. During a sharp thunder-storm one fifth of an inch fell in twenty minutes and in the next hour the temperature dropped from 51 to 38 degrees.

SPARKS FROM THE WIRES

MACON, Mo., Dec. 8.—Macon went "dry" today by a majority of thirty-six votes.

NEW YORK, Dec. 8.—Of five children who at a wedding ceremony last night found several bottles of liquor and drank from them, two died tonight in a hospital. The other three may not live.

NEWARK, N. J., Dec. 8.—An examination of the needle found in the Lyric Theatre, with which the police alleged Mrs. Graft was stabbed, failed to show any sign of poison according to reports tonight.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Dec. 8.—Fire late tonight in the basement of the Syracuse Herald building caused a loss estimated at $5,000. The basement was flooded and a large quantity of paper destroyed.

TO COMPLETE YOELL INQUEST THIS MORNING

SESSION WILL BE CONVENED AT PISGAH AT 8 O'CLOCK.

Large Number of Witnesses Are Heard and Reports of Examinations Entered in Evidence at Monday's Session—Expect Verdict Before Noon Today.

On account of three witnesses being unable to get to Pisgah Monday afternoon, as the train was more than three hours late, the reconvened inquest into the death of Mina Youell, who committed suicide at Pisgah on October 28, was adjourned until this morning at 8 o'clock at Pisgah when their testimony will be heard and the jury is expected to return a verdict before noon. The witnesses who will be heard are Mrs. Hattie Lee, matron of the Woodlawn Home at Quincy; Mrs. Dorsey, assistant matron at the home; and P. S. Slater of Peoria.

The session Monday was attended by Rev. Charles Virden, state agent of the Board of Administration; Miss Mary S. Jewell, state visitor for the board. The session was in charge of Deputy Coroner John G. Reynolds and State's Attorney Robert Tilton supervised the inquiry. Coroner George W. Wright was also present.

Suicide Pact Denied.
Rumors that a suicide pact had been formed by the deceased, Miss Tillie Sellingham, who resides near Pisgah, and Miss Mary Pool of New Berlin, were set to naught by the testimony of Miss Sellingham who denied that any such agreement had been made who also stated that the Youell girl had said nothing to her about committing suicide.

Reports of the post mortem, were presented with other evidence. The reports were made by Dr. Carl E. Black, Dr. George H. Stacy, Dr. Grace Dewey and George D. Beal of the University of Illinois. They showed that a quantity of carbolic acid was found in the stomach and also disproved the theory that the girl had killed herself because of special reasons.

Among other developments at the inquest was that there had been two other girls in the Davenport home prior to the time that the Youell girl was sent there. Several years ago Etta Burgo of Hannibal, Mo., a cousin of the deceased, was placed there but was later taken out on account of alleged mistreatment. A letter was presented in evidence from Mrs. M. M. Elliott, matron of the Geneva school for girls, in which she enclosed a letter from Della May Riden, who was also in the Davenport home. In the letter the Riden girl stated that she was frequently mistreated. Mrs. Elliott said that she was convinced that the girl had told the truth.

Knew Nothing of Mistreatment.
Mrs. Mary E. Lukeman testified that she knew the deceased slightly and knew nothing about any mistreatment except that her children coming home from school said that the girl was thinly clad. She also stated that she knew nothing against the character of the girl, that she saw the girl at Sunday school once this year and she appeared to be a perfect lady.

T. J. Lukeman was recalled to the stand, stated that he was a director of Sulphur Springs school and that he had spoken to J. E. Davenport about sending the girl to school and that at first he spoke very favorably regarding it. He said that three weeks later when he met Mr. Davenport in Jacksonville he said that the girl was over 14 years of age and he did not have to send her to school and also said that he got that girl to work.

Samuel H. Bowyer stated that he had been at his sister's residence an number of times during the years that Mina Youell was there and had never found the girl in a despondent mood, that on the contrary she had been cheerful and evidently happy. He said that the clothing she wore when he saw her was that worn by most country girls about the house. He told of the girl getting up at 2 o'clock one morning last summer to switch a dog and lock him up so that he would not disturb the rest of the family and that he never knew of an alleged suicide pact between Mina and two other girls.

Ernest Waters, who worked for Mr. Davenport, was also recalled to identify two pictures of himself.

William Buchanan testified that he saw the girl about a month before her death and knew nothing of her being mistreated. He explained that he understood that the girl had gone barefooted on account of her feet bothering her. He said T. B. Buchanan told him that Mr. Davenport had told him (Mr. Buchanan) regarding the girl's feet bothering her so that she could not wear shoes.

Peard Davenport, who resides two miles from Pisgah, was called and testified as to what the girl wore when dead, that there were three marks of her left arm, that looked like pin scratches. "Previous to her death she told me that Marjorie had whipped her," said the witness, "and beat her like a dog and told her that if she told she would kill her. This took place at my home one year before she died. Mrs. J. E. Davenport told me she whipped Mina the day before she died for saying she was going to make a bad woman out of herself."

Miss Katharine Kaiser of Alexander testified that she did not know the deceased and had heard nothing about the abuses before the girl's death.

Mrs. John W. Sample said that she could tell but little that was not already given in evidence. She told of the girl coming to her house and that when she asked her to stay a while the girl told her that she could not as Marjorie would whip her if she stayed a minute. Mrs. Sample also stated that she did not know of the girl being whipped with a horse-whip and that although she had heard the deceased scream at one time she did not know whether or not she was being whipped.

Ross Cox on Stand.

Ross Cox said that the deceased attended his Sunday school class one or two Sunday in the two years he taught and that he never knew of her being mistreated. He said that she appeared to be a very nice, modest girl and that Mr. Davenport never gave him any reason for removing the girl from Sunday school. He said that Ernest Waters had told him of the girl committing suicide and told of a letter he had from P. S. Slater of Peoria saying that he regretted the girl's death and that she had stood a great deal of abuse at the hands of members of the Davenport family.

Mrs. John A. Dyer was recalled to the stand and testified to finding two pictures in the girl's clothing the day of her death and that she saw three marks on her arm, which looked as though they were caused by a switch. Mrs. Mary Lukeman, who was recalled to the stand told of Miss Jewell's visit to her home to see Mr. Lukeman about sending the girl to school.

J. E. Curry, the minister who conducted the deceased's funeral said that no person told him personally that Mina Youell was whipped or abused by the members of the Davenport family.

WOMAN'S COLLEGE MUSICAL DELIGHTS LARGE AUDIENCE

Vesper Concert at Music Hall Attended by Many Despite Threatening Weather.

In spite of the threatening weather Sunday afternoon the music hall at the Woman's College was filled to capacity at the Vesper concert at 4 o'clock. The program was varied by organ, voice and violin numbers and was concluded by a reading by Miss Eaytha Parsons, head of the department of expression. A change in this published program was necessitated by the absence of Mrs. Hartmann, who was suffering with a slight attack of tonsillitis.

Donald M. Swarthout began the program with three numbers on the organ, "Idylle" by Dethier; the "Aria" by Dethier and a fantasia on "O Sanctissima" by Lux. Miss McKay sang with excellent enunciation "Il Libero Santo" by Pimsuti, after which she and Miss Helen Jones rendered "They Shall Hunger no More" from the "Holy City," of Gaul. "Andante Religioso" by Swarthout, supplying for a number omitted by reason of the absence of Mrs. Hartmann. The reading by Miss Parsons was extremely well done. Accompanied in the musical setting by Messrs. M. L. and D. M. Swarthout she gave with clearness and intensity, the well known selection from Longfellow's Tales from a Wayside Inn, "King Robert of Sicily."

CHRISTMAS MUSIC AT GRACE M. E. CHURCH

Choir of Church and Musicians of Woman's College to Give Pastoral Sunday, the 14th.

"Noel" a Christmas pastoral, will be the subject Sunday, Dec. 14, of an entire evening's entertainment by the Grace M. E. choir, together with Mrs. Hartmann and Miss Baese of the faculty of the College of Music and a number of students of the Woman's college. L. M. Swarthout, director of the College of Music will have charge of the entertainment and D. M. Swarthout will preside at the organ. This Christmas music is being given early this year on account of the students who will participate. It will be of advantage also to those who may attend as it does not conflict with the later Christmas programs. The program will begin at 7:30.

The music of the pastoral was written by George W. Chadwick, director of the New England Conservatory of Boston, Mass., a composer of eminence. The words are compiled from various sources. Among the passages of note is a chorus of woman's voices in Latin as well as a number of excellent solo parts.

MID-WINTER FESTIVAL OPENS WITH MADE IN JACKSONVILLE SHOW

Fully Five Hundred Attend Exhibition on South Main Monday Night—Governor Sends Letter.

The formal opening of the Mid-Winter Festival last evening was witnessed by five hundred people, and all seemed delighted by the fine variety of things made in Jacksonville. The booths were generally admired and all well arranged. Jeffries' orchestra supplied fine music and all was successful. Secretary Fritchey introduced Commissioner Brennan who represented Mayor Davis in making the opening address. The gentleman said in brief: "I must admit I am surprised to see so much and such a variety of things made in Jacksonville of which I had no knowledge though all my life has been spent here. The business men and all should take a part and see that this is made permanent though I hardly know where we could get a building large enough for the exhibit. I feel certain if this is repeated next year the city will help and the affair made all the more successful. The Illinois College Glee Club then sang very acceptably and were rewarded by hearty applause to which they gracefully responded with an encore. J. J. Reeve, vice-president, Chamber of Commerce responded and said in part: "There are some things, all here should know. Jacksonville is one of the best places in which to do business and all each year in money orders and all ways. Few cities have the advantages we possess and all should take hold and boost without knocking." Mr. Fritchey read the following letter from the governor: "Springfield, Ill., Dec. 8, 1913. "Paul B. Fritchey, Sec. "Chamber of Commerce, "I arrived home from Washington Saturday evening to find your kind invitation on my desk. I answered it promptly, but learned that by some accident it had not been mailed. I telegraphed you today, but for some reason it must not have been delivered. "I regret very much that a prior engagement of several days to attend a banquet of the Springfield Commercial Association will prevent my being in Jacksonville. It would have given me great pleasure to participate with your energetic business men in your 'Made in Jacksonville Show' tonight, if this prior engagement did not prevent. "I have visited Jacksonville several times during the past two months and I have found it to be a prosperous and energetic community. I believe that your business men are alive and alert as they appear here in Springfield. You must keep live and alert to draw your share of business from the rich prosperous country which surrounds you. "I wish you every success this evening and hope your opening celebration will be fruitful of results. Please present my regrets for not being with you. "Governor Edward F. Danne." Letters were read from officials of the roads passing through this city, several Chambers of Commerce, among them being Chicago, Quincy and others promising to be present Thursday. A miscellaneous booth has been prepared to receive sundry articles made in the city. A nominal charge of fifty cents per article to pay expenses will be charged. There is yet room for exhibits in this booth. The following chairmen of committees and their assistants have labored faithfully for the success of the enterprise: E. F. Johnston, chairman of finance committee; C. E. Massey, chairman of exhibits committee; J. G. Capps, chairman of program committee; Roy Potter, chairman of advertising committee; Mr. Drake, chairman of decoration committee; James Groves, superintendent of exhibition and William Benson and Robert Reid, official decorators.

Easiest Thing You Know

That's what it is, as observe the following plan: We will pipe or wire your house RIGHT NOW and allow you twelve months in which to pay for the service. Also, we will do the work at cost price. Phone us at No. Ill. 580; Bell, 332, or call and we will be glad to give further details.

HOUSEWIVES

Do you know that W. D. Cody sells the best and highest quality flour in Jacksonville and that the name of that flour is Zephyr! Zephyr!

To prove this statement we point to the record made at the state fair baking contest in Springfield. The winners in this bread show were:

First Prize (sweepstakes) Mrs. A. A. Johnson, 1313 South 10th St., Springfield.

Second Prize (sweepstakes) Mrs. C. H. ones, 110 Bond ave. Springfield. Zephyr flour thus won both first and second prizes over bread from twenty other brands of flour. The loaves displayed were baked from twenty-two brands in addition to Zephyr, some of the best known and most advertised brands on the market today like Seal of Minnesota, Gold Medal, Pillsbury, Ceresota, Occident, Aristos and Snow White. It was easily shown that Zephyr flour had no equal among them.

Why not pay cash and get the highest quality flour here at a saving of 25 cents to 45 cents per sack.

THE JACKSONVILLE JOURNAL Established 1843

Published by JACKSONVILLE JOURNAL CO.

Officials of the Federation of Labor in Chicago have stated their belief that Chicago would have more unemployed to care for this winter than in any other year in its history. The president of the Cook county board has offered an entire floor of the court house as a place to lodge a part of the 100,000 destitute unemployed now there, men who have no money to pay for food or lodging. It has been years since so many men have been "tramping" through the country as today.

The law creating the commission form of municipal government, under which this city is now governed, contains the following provision:

Section 50. Every public service, corporation or utility shall furnish and provide equal and uniform service alike to all citizens of any city or village adopting the provisions of this act, and it shall be unlawful and a sufficient ground for the forfeiture of any franchise for any such corporation to grant free service. * * * Any person or firm or corporation, its agents or officers thereof, violating the provisions of this section, and any person, firm or corporation accepting the preference herein named, shall be punished by a fine of not less than five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail not less than three months or more than one year, or by both, such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Provided, that any person receiving special favors or privileges referred to in section 50, shall be immune from punishment in case he testifies to any matter referred to therein in pursuance of subpoena from said municipal authorities."

NEW LAWS TO AID EFFICIENCY.

The last legislature passed a law permitting cities to do commercial lighting, a measure for which the people had been clamoring for years. The municipal ownership law was also passed by the last legislature, a law which makes it obligatory on city officials to keep the accounts of light plants separate from all other accounts and in such a manner that each year they can be checked up by experts and the findings published.

These new laws were considered advance measures, intended to increase the efficiency of municipal service. For Jacksonville at this time to vote for the surrender of its municipal plant is ill advised and untimely. Why should this city just at the very time that legislation has been adopted which is for the bettering of municipal service place itself in position where it cannot enjoy the benefits of the new laws.

IN THE INTEREST OF

THE PEOPLE.

The Journal is supporting the city ordinance which provides for the issuance of $50,000 bonds to improve the municipal light plant, principally because this paper believes that it is in the interest of the people for the city to remain in the municipal lighting business. The Journal has no attack to make on the Jacksonville Railway & Light Co., but it does believe that company has plenty of business locally to look after, gas, electric and street railway, without trying to take over all of the city's business as well. Past years have proven that it is not a good thing for one company to have a complete monopoly of the lighting business; future years will furnish more proof.

THE ECONOMICAL WAY.

Some Jacksonville citizens who are in favor of buying light for the city instead of making the current in a municipal plant are opposed to the surrender of the municipal plant. Utilize the plant, they say, exclusively for pumping water. The fault in this plan is that to use the municipal plant for pumping only will mean an added expense for the water department. Today the money from the water department, in excess of the expense of the department, is more than $1,200 a month. To equip a municipal plant for pumping only would cut off a large part of the profits of that department and help in crippling the city financially. A plant which furnishes energy for light and energy for pumping can in all reason furnish that energy more cheaply than would be true if only one department were paying the expenses. Aurora, Decatur, Bloomington are some of the Illinois cities furnishing power for water and light departments from one plant and are saving money for the people.

THE UNPREJUDICED VIEW.

Any voter who casts a ballot December 20th against the issuance of bonds for the rebuilding of the light plant should do so because he or she is opposed to municipal lighting and believes that it will be better for the city to buy light than to make it. The voter who puts in such a ballot should believe honestly that the better policy for Jacksonville is to turn over all the lighting business of the city to one corporation.

It will not be good judgment to vote against the bond issue because someone else you know favors it. It will not be good judgment to vote against because somebody says that the present municipal plant is a junk pile and has been mismanaged all through the years. Look instead at all the facts and figures, consider just what the original plant cost and what the running expenses have been, the difference in the proposition made eighteen years ago to sell the city light and the prices asked now.

The city lighting plant has been badly crippled for several years by lack of repairs, but if the unprejudiced citizen will figure up the costs he will find from the result that Municipal Light Plant Ownership in Jacksonville has not been a failure.

Don't vote against the light bond issue because of prejudice, or because somebody says that there never has been a high class municipal administration and never will be one. This campaign is not a question of persons or administrations. It is a question of broad principle and policy.

Do you want Jacksonville to go out of municipal lighting and turn over all lighting and power business to one corporation—that is the question which confronts the people today.

MADE SUGGESTIONS TO MERCHANTS

A. G. HAMBROCK SPEAKER AT CHAMBER OF COMMERCE LUNCHEON.

Urged Retailers to Make Quality and Service the Basis of Business Success—Believes that Other Things Will Prove Lacking in Permanent Helpfulness—Co-Operation is Needed to Bring to Pass the Best Results

A goodly representation of merchants of Jacksonville attended a luncheon given at the Pacific Hotel Monday under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce. T. M. Tomlinson, Chairman of the retailers section presided and the minister for the day was Rev. Howard D. French. After an excellent menu had been served Mr. Tomlinson introduced as the speaker of the day, A. G. Hambrock of Chicago, Secretary of the Illinois Retail Merchants' Association. Although the time allotted Mr. Hambrock was not long he made a very interesting address directed especially to retail merchants. He pointed out some of the things that caused trouble for the retail merchants in the general conduct of his business and offered suggestions which were really worth while. In his introductory remarks the speaker paid a compliment to Secretary Fritchey telling the company that Mr. Fritchey made such a favorable impression at the meeting of the State Association in Alton that the decision had been reached to hold the meeting here next. He said that the life of an association in the very nature of things depended upon the secretary and that he believed Jacksonville was fortunate in having Mr. Fritchey here.

Outdistancing Competitors. Mr. Hambrock said, among other things, "We hear a great deal of discussion of the cost or rather the high cost of living when an examination of the real facts will prove that the trouble is we are living too high and not satisfied with the ways of life of our fathers and mothers. In mercantile lines I understand you have just introduced here a feature which will add to the high cost of doing business and that is the trading stamp. I account the trading stamp as an unnecessary and uncalled for expense on the part of the merchant. It is one of those things that a merchant is over persuaded to introduce into his business in the belief that it will help him outdistancing his competitor. The fact is that the stamps really add largely to the expense of his business and that expense must of course be charged up to his customers."

Co-Operation Methods Save. "There are certain things that merchants can do to reduce expenses of doing business and these are the things that you as merchants should study. Co-operation buying and co-operative delivery systems are matters which have been given a good deal of study by successful merchants and in a number of localities have aided materially in cutting down the cost of doing business. Our Journal has collected a good deal of statistics on these things and while I am unable to go into the matter today I would be glad to send the information to anyone interested. Another great defect in our retail system of today is the matter of credit. The average merchant in his anxiety to sell and to keep his competitor from getting a customer extends credit to those who are not entitled to it. The average merchant too does not seem to be able to profit by experience and after he has given credit and lost an account, he will turn right around and do the same thing again. The method they follow reminds me of a foreign workman who was busy in a mill in one of our American cities when he cut off a finger on a buzz saw. He yelled for the superintendent to come to his aid and then showed the superintendent how it had been done by poking another finger at the saw and off it came.

Values and Service Essential. "What the merchant must learn to do is that he cannot increase his business by trying to make the public think they are getting something for nothing nor can he make his business profitable by extending credit where it is undeserved. He must build his business upon quality, values and service. I do not believe that all merchants appreciate what work the state association does for them and I cannot go into it in detail today. I want to mention however that the association is responsible for the portion of the pure food law which makes it necessary for the manufacturer to stand behind the guarantee. The association too is responsible for the semi-monthly payment bill which makes it possible for employees of corporations to receive their wages twice monthly instead of once a month and the merchant gets the benefit by receiving his money more quickly."

The Quiet Half Hour. "As we go into a business house we can see defects in management and service and so I believe that every retailer could profitably spend half an hour each day in sitting down quietly looking for possible errors in the conduct of his business and then making an effort to correct them. As a matter of fact you will find that not more than one merchant in a hundred has any correct idea of the overhead expense in the conduct of his business. It costs a grocer 20 per cent to do business and he must add that to the cost of his goods before he can begin to figure profits. Very often the merchant in figuring out prices at which we must sell in order to make money overlooks various items of expense which he must include in the selling price if he is to make a success of his business. It is a man's duty to build up his business so far as he can and to build up his home town as much as possible and this he can accomplish in no way better than by buying at home. Just think of it, 340 years before Christ it is recorded that Aristotle said, 'All success is based on reciprocity.' If you leave your home community to buy very soon you will find that your neighbors are doing the same thing."

City Markets Fail. "City markets are sometimes recommended as desirable features for cutting down living costs in our cities but an investigation of this subject shows that the great men who operate stalls in such markets are under as great expense for the amount of business done as our store keepers and the public really gets no benefit. The housewife who comes down town with her basket and the money ready to buy and pay for the things which appeal to her as worth the money, in the very nature of things gets better values than a woman who sends in her order over the telephone and pays for the goods whenever she gets ready. If you as merchants wish to attain the best things for your city and yourselves in a business way you must co-operate in offering to the people quality, service and efficiency."

SUMMONED BY ILLNESS. Dr. R. C. Henley, William Henley and Mrs. George Shaw have gone to Ashland, summoned by the illness of their father who is very low.

HOME MADE PRODUCTS ARE NOW DISPLAYED

JACKSONVILLE SHOW OPENED AUSPICIOUSLY MONDAY.

Exhibits are Creditable and Show That This City Has a Surprising Variety of Products—Special Programs From Day to Day.

If anybody doubts that anything is made in Jacksonville a visit to the exhibition on South Main street will dispel the idea. Of course this is not primarily a manufacturing place. We have not the clatter of the bucket brigade we would so like to see but it is incumbent on all who are at all patriotic to see what is done here and buy accordingly. The concerns which have large funds invested here are well deserving of liberal patronage on the part of our citizens and they should have it. Mail order houses and outside concerns do nothing toward building up Jacksonville and all should take a pride in doing all possible for home industries and business men.

Ascending the stairs a large banner appears with the words: "Come to Jacksonville, awake to your opportunities and her own."

Passing about the apartment the various booths are attractive. The Jacksonville Creamery display is very creditable. Of course it is impossible to show all the products there for the place is too warm but a good idea is given.

The high school domestic science display shows some of the things made in our public places of learning. Fine dresses, various articles of clothing, many things made by the young people there are shown.

The Clover Leaf Casualty Company has several young ladies vigorously at work with different machines preparing the documents sent out by that wide awake concern and a regular office is shown.

The Jacksonville Packing Company has a fine display of goods as far as practicable though it is handicapped here for it needs cold storage to show anything like a fair exhibit of its products.

At the High School Refreshment booth sandwiches, coffee and the good things are offered for sale. The young ladies in charge reported liberal patronage Monday.

Jacksonville Brick and Tile Company has a fine exhibit of goods that they manufacture. The quality is first class and the variety ample and good.

The Snyder Ice & Fuel Company has a fine exhibit. They have three blocks of artificial ice and in them are frozen and visible different things, a beautiful flower from the Heintz green house being one of them.

Wood's Feed Softener—A wonderful improvement in preparing food for stock feeding here is shown and the proprietor, Charles Wood offers to back up his claims with large money.

C. B. Massey has an attractive booth showing his tent and awning business, stack covers and the like. The Ham Rug Works—This shows some fine work in their line making floor coverings quite attractive.

The Jacksonville Barber Supply Company has a lot of bottles filled with a liquid which is of course all right though in a wet town might be suspicious but of course beyond suspicion in this place.

The Railway & Light Company—This is a fine booth. A portrait of Edison is prominent while various fancy electric devices show that this wide awake company is ready for business in all departments.

ment are photographs of the new locomotive recently completed at the car shops, one with men all over it and one with none in sight. Other pictures and suitable adornments well set forth the activities of this important body.

G. A. Sieber has a booth which well displays his work in electrical directions. Handsome fixtures, complicated displays and many other devices well set forth what this enterprising gentleman is doing.

The Jenkinson-Bode Company have samples of their good coffee predominating. Other articles handled by this company are also represented showing a large business.

George Woke & Sons, machinists, garage owners and general auto repair shop proprietors, have a characteristic display, a small auto engine and other things are prominent.

J. Bart Johnson everything musical is showing the wares in a handsome booth and many stop to hear the sweet sounds from the instruments and admire the exhibit. Red Cross Seals—A booth is devoted to the sale of Red Cross anti-tuberculosis stamps and polite ladies solicit orders for the noble enterprise.

Barr's laundry has a booth and cleanliness is a prominent feature of everything there displayed. It is in keeping with the establishment.

The Jacksonville Courier has a booth with furnishings in keeping with a newspaper office and has a good location for its exhibit which is excellent.

Jacksonville Tailoring Co.—These wide-awake young men have a large booth well fitted up with the articles which are manufactured by them and show that for a reasonable sum of money a man or boy may be well clothed.

Gravel Springs Co. show a collection of bottles and devices for keeping and supplying their "cup that cheers but not inebriates." Everything about the place says pure water.

Oak Laws Sanitorium has a booth calling attention to the work of that well known place and indicating the great advantage possessed there for the treatment of invalids.

Frank's Bakery—There is on exhibition enough good things to eat to stock a small company and it takes that much to show what is made at that well known place. Mr. Frank feeds the multitude.

In the Coking Cement Works booth are several fine samples of what can be done with cement. Among other things is a large vase similar to an order for a number for Nichol's park.

Brown's Business college shows in its booth the stenotype at work and today will have an expert, while on other days the machine will be operated by students. Other articles show the work done there.

Many doubtless didn't know Jacksonville had a quilting factory here but a visit to the festival will disclose a creditable representation from Stice's factory.

In Platt's Studio are samples of cards enabling us to see ourselves as others see us and there is a lot of them.

U. G. Woodman is showing advertising novelties. Match boxes are a specialty and samples of labels on more than a thousand boxes are shown, each an order for some house or establishment. Other fancy goods in this line are shown indicating the large business is done.

The School for the Deaf shows many articles made in the different shops of the establishment while in general the work of the place is well set forth in a good manner. Furniture, shoes and other things are made there.

State School for Blind has an exhibit at the "Blind" booth which is a revelation. People all knew they made head work there but few had any idea of furniture and similar articles. Surely the world moves and the sightless are moving with it. Otto Spieth, the photographer is progressive and up to date. His display shows the recently invented way of making large, long extended groups and similar difficult pictures and his photographs are fine.

J. Capps & Sons present a splendid display. The beautiful goods, new style garments for ladies and gentlemen, fine blankets and so many articles all show the wonderful versatility of the house and the wide scope of its business.

The Jacksonville Cigar Box Co. booth shows a lot of fine cigar boxes and some other articles which are made in Jacksonville and all speak well for the establishment showing them.

The Journal has a booth with placard which states "The Journal has been made in Jacksonville since 1843." The chairs and table in this booth are for the use of the public.

The manufacture of cigars is a great industry and the McCarty-Gebert company products are among the best. Their goods are popular and the booth is well arranged. L. D. Caywood makes a specialty of sign and fancy card writing. His samples are very creditable.

J. H. Cain & Son want everyone to know that it is not at all necessary to send away for flour that will be guaranteed to give any reasonable housekeeper full satisfaction. They make several grades of flour and sell food for man and beast. Their display is worthy of the house.

MEN ARE PLEASED WITH THE PLEASANT RECEPTION WHICH THEY EXPERIENCE IN MUNSING UNDERWEAR. FRANK BYRNS HAT STORE HAS A FULL RANGE OF WEIGHTS AND SIZES.

TEXARKANA CELEBRATES. Texarkana, Ark., Dec. 8.—Rounding out the first forty years of her history, there began in Texarkana today a celebration in honor of the great forward strides that the four decades have witnessed. The entire city is profusely decorated for the occasion. The celebration will continue three days and will include historical exercises, street pageants, aviation exhibitions and a variety of other attractions.

COAL MINING INSTITUTE. Charleston, W. Va., Dec. 8.—Several hundred of the leading coal men of the state are attending the semi-annual meeting of the West Virginia Coal Mining Institute, which began a three days' session here today. In addition to papers on technical subjects the program calls for addresses on the operations of the workmen's compensation law, the effect of the Panama canal on West Virginia mining operations, and the new state prohibition law and its probable effect upon miners.

I would appreciate settlement by those who are indebted to me before the holidays.

the game. Frisbie and Wilson, end and tackle respectively, on the 1912 championship Springfield high school team which was coached by Elzie Weber, a former Illinois college star entered school. Mitchell, who learning the game at Pittsfield high school, under the coaching of Irvin Potter, another Illinois college player, also joined the squad. From Mt.
Vernon came Maxey, who had played on the Mt. Vernon high school team and Atchison, who had had no experience in the game.

The first game this season found these men in the positions which they filled practically throughout the season.

Team Well Balanced.

A remarkable feature of the season's play is the fact that not a single player was forced to leave a game because of an injury. On an evening before the Bradley game, Karch was stricken with appendicitis, resulting from which necessitated an operation and consequently his services were lost the team for the season. Playing the same men in the same position throughout the year made it possible to develop team work to a marked degree. The team was a well balanced one. There were no stars on it and there were no noticeably weak men. Each game brought into prominence the plans of different men, so that before the season was over, each man had had opportunity to distinguish himself.

A personal of the season's scores shows that, with the exception of the last game the team played the most consistent kind of football. Every game was won or lost by close scores. Shurtliff was the only team which scored a touch down and one of those came more through the carelessness of the Illinois players than through Shurtliff's good playing. Lincoln, Bradley, Wesleyan, Normal, Lombard and Milliken were able to score but one touch down, also scored by field goals, but none of the teams could force the ball across the Illinois goal line for a second touch down.

In but two of the eight games played did Illinois lack the necessary force to carry the ball across the opposing team's goal line.

Men on Second Team.

Illinois had something never seen on the hill before, three teams in the field. The second team men have worked hard this year and are deserving of much praise. None of them graduate and so they should be back and make first men hustle for places. The following are the second team players: Pond, Sooy, Berryman, Butcher, Jones, E. Luke-man, R. Camps, E. Harmon, Akers, R. Berry, Justis, Alexander, H.
Pierce and Morrison.

Praise for Coach Harmon.

Too much praise cannot be given Coach W. T. Harmon for the excellent manner in which he developed the team this year and their record is a fine recommendation of his coaching. Through his trip to Columbia, Pa., early in the season, he was able to bring home many ideas and he has overlooked nothing in giving his players the latest and best methods of how the game should be played. It has been a number of years since the college has had a team of such excellence, and friends far and near have taken a keen interest in the work of the eleven. The coach is also quite popular among the men.

Further Light on Clark.

It will be remembered that when Illinois played their last game against Williams and Vashti, that Coach Harmon played the contest under protest, that Clark the star man of W. and V., who practically won the game for his team, was ineligible, having had five years of football in college. The following letter in part from W. L. Ray, director of Athletics at W. and V., vindicates the position taken by Coach Harmon.

Aledo, Ill., Dec. 3, 1913.
Coach W. T. Harmon, Jacksonville, Ill.

Dear Sir: I am writing you to explain the position of Coach Wilds and myself with reference to the Clark affair. This is Mr. Wild's first year at W. and V. It is my third year, but during the past two years I have paid practically no attention to athletics. Last spring Mr.
Woodmansee started work on this year's football schedule. When he left in June he turned things over to Mr. Duvall, our student manager for this year.

This fall when I returned from the East I was informed that the board had appointed me to the position of Athletic director. Mr. Wilds came in a few days and we started to work on the schedule, which was not then completed.

We were both new in our positions here, but worked along as best we could and never once thought that we were playing any but eligible men. So you can see that your telegram protesting Clark came as a complete surprise to us. Upon its receipt Mr. Wilds called up a newspaper man here who had helped Mr.
Duvall on the schedule during the summer and this man told Mr. Wilds to pay no attention to the telegram as he had talked to Mr. Bennett of Lincoln this summer and Mr. Bennett had said that a man could play six years.

I am writing you these facts so that you may know that Mr.
Wilds and I are entirely innocent of any attempt at irregularity. We both stand for clean athletics and are going to do our best to keep them so at William and Vashti. I think that you can see why we both objected to taking Clark out of the Thanksgiving game. He had played all season and had not been protested. This was his last game for the season and he and I decided we would not then protest that he was not entitled to play.

Since learning the facts of the situation, I will say that Stuart Clark will not be permitted to engage in any more athletic contests for William and Vashti.

Cordially yours,
W. L. RAY,
Director of Athletics.

It looks from this letter that there will be no question about the game being thrown out at the Peoria meeting the latter part of the month.
If the game is thrown out this will not repay Illinois for damage done in having it sent out broadcast that Illinois was defeated by W. and V.
If the contest is awarded to Illinois it will mean that Illinois will be declared champions of the association having won six out of the eight games played.

Record for Year.

Lincoln 7; Illinois 0.
Normal 7; Illinois 22.
Bradley 10; Illinois 14.
Wesleyan 9; Illinois 10.
Milliken 7; Illinois 0.
Lombard 6; Illinois 12.
Shurtliff 13; Illinois 32.
Clark V. 6; Illinois 14.

Capt. Ernest Alford.

Captain Ernest Alford, who has led the Blue and White to victory so many times this season, has completed his fourth year on the team.
During the seasons of 1910 and 1911 he played at end. In 1912 he was shifted to the back field, where he played throughout the season at halfback. This fall found him at full back position, which he filled through every game of the season.
His line plunging has been a terror to all opposing teams. He is a good interferer, a strong runner with the ball and a powerful defensive player. In the conference he is a second only in the full back position, to Mc-Laughlin of Williams and Vashti in all round ability. Alford is a sophomore and so has two more years in which to win additional laurels for Old Illinois.

Robbins Russell.

Robbins Russell is the only senior on the team and consequently will be the only player lost to this year's team through graduation. This season was his second on the team. At the beginning of the 1912 season he was a substitute tackle. The middle of the season found him playing regularly at left tackle. During the season just closed he has played reg-
Like many other players, Russell made the mistake of waiting too late in his college career before taking up the sport. He has never been a brilliant player but he has always been steady, aggressive and dependable.

Waldo Spruit.

Waldo Spruit is the only representative of the junior class on the varsity squad. Spruit received his first experience in football on the Jacksonville high school team. In the fall of 1910 he played on the college team, but during the next two years, parts of which were spent at Wesleyan, he did not compete. In mid-season this year he won a place at halfback, and, although handicapped by a slight but troublesome injury which seriously interfered with his efforts, he played a creditable game throughout the remainder of the season.

Fred Stewart.

Fred Stewart, a sophomore, received his first experience in football on the Jacksonville high school team. He entered Illinois in September, 1912, and was among the first to don the football togs that year. He easily showed that he had qualifications for the position of quarterback. His kicking ability, together with his speed, execution of the forward pass and a fair exhibition of generalship, won for him that position. This season he was in his old position and played it better than the previous year. Stewart was one of the quarterbacks picked by several coaches for the position of all-conference quarter. With two years of experience behind him, he should be a very valuable asset to the team during his remaining two years of competition.

Rex Gary.

Rex Gary is another sophomore who won a place on the varsity. He has shared the position of quarterback with Stewart in every game of the season which has just closed.
Gary learned to love the touch of the pigskin while he was playing with the Alton high school. From there he came to Illinois in the fall of 1912 and tried for the team. He and Stewart shared the position of quarterback that year as well as during the past season. Gary's strength lies in the good judgement which he displays in directing the team and in his ability to inject speed and aggressiveness into a lagging team. He also has two more years to devote to the success of the Blue and White.

Harry McLaughlin.

Harry McLaughlin is another player from the sophomore class who made the varsity. He first was introduced to the game while attending the Virginia high school. He entered Illinois in the fall of 1912 and tried for a place that season. He was finally located at left end, where he played during that season and the past season also. What he lacks in natural qualifications for the position he attempts to supply in the form of aggressiveness and ready playing. McLaughlin will wear the Blue and White for two more years.

Paul Darragh.

Paul Darragh is the fourth sophomore on the team. He entered Whitple academy in the fall of 1910. In 1910 and 1911 he was a substitute back field man on the varsity. Late in the season of 1912 he was shifted to the line when it became apparent that he was not developing for a half back position in the manner expected. Although he lacks the speed and weight which an ideal guard should possess, he played a creditable game at right guard throughout the past season. Like his classmates he, too, has two more years in which to strive for Old Illinois.

Warren Pierce.

Warren Pierce is one of the seven freshmen who were on the varsity squad. This was his second year on the team. Early in the season of 1912, Pierce displayed unusual ability for a man who had never before played football. His tackling was especially notable in that it was of the most deadly nature. He was given a chance at end in one of the early games and proved that he was capable of filling the position. During the remainder of that season and in every game of the past season Pierce has played right end in such a manner as to attract attention from coaches of other teams, several of whom picked him for an end position on the all-conference team.
With three more years of competition Pierce can be relied upon to play his position with even more effectiveness than he has displayed in the past.

Carl Lukeman.

Carl Lukeman is a freshman and the last of the men who have seen more than one year's service on the varsity team. A year ago he came out, big and awkward, to try for a position. Throughout the season he played left guard in a manner that would have done credit to any first year man. Due to a slump in his early season playing and to competition for line positions, he was forced during the past season to share the position of left guard with another player. As the season progressed his playing improved and should he continue to improve he will be a tower of strength to the team during his remaining three years.

Julian Frisbie.

Julian Frisbie is one of the five freshmen who have played their first season of college football on the Illinois team. Frisbie graduated from the Springfield high school last September and entered Illinois last September. He played on the Springfield high football team for three years. In 1912 he played end on the undefeated team which that school turned out. At Illinois he has played all season at right tackle, where he has played a slashing, consistent game. He is, per se, better qualified, naturally, to play as a tackle than as a tackle, but conditions make it necessary to use him at tackle. He was picked by the coaches as one of the two all-star conference ends. This choice is a fitting tribute to his superb playing of the last season.

Hansel Wilson.

Hansel Wilson is another of the first year men produced by the freshman class. He is also a graduate of the Springfield high school in the same class with Frisbie. He had but one year of football in high school before coming to Illinois last fall. He played tackle last year on the championship team which Springfield high produced. On the Illinois team he played half back throughout every game of the season. Considering that this was his second year in football, his first experience in the back-field and his first year in college football, he played a remarkable game during the past season.
He gives promise of being a whirlwind player during the remainder of his college course.

John Mitchell.

John Mitchell is a graduate of Pittsfield high school and it was while he was in school there that he began to play football. Last year he played principally at tackle, but was also used in the back-field. This fall he has played most of the time at tackle and it was in that position that he played his best game. He was a strong defensive player while at tackle. He was a consistent ground gainer in carrying the ball on a tackle around play and frequently broke loose for long gains.
Mitchell will be a thorn in the side of every team which he plays against

WHAT OUR PROPOSITION IS:

The Jacksonville Railway and Light Company has offered to do the street lighting in Jacksonville, amounting to 800 lights (as compared with 185 lights now in use) for $12,000 a year. There are no ifs and buts attached to this proposition.
It is a straight business offer, and is, in itself, cheaper than the cost of doing the same lighting with a municipal light plant.

This offer to light 800 lamps all night every night is not contingent on our getting new franchises. The franchise question is not an issue in the election of Dec. 20.

There is, however, an element in our proposal which is of vital interest to every user of electric light and power, present or prospective, in Jacksonville. It is this:

The day that the City Council of Jacksonville enters into a contract with this Company for Street lighting, the rates for residence lighting will be reduced over 30 per cent, and other rates will be proportionately reduced.

This reduction in rates is contingent on our receiving the street lighting contract, for it is self-evident that the street, commercial and residence lighting of Jacksonville can be done more cheaply with one plant than with two.

By making a contract with the Jacksonville Railway and Light Company the city will not only get its street lighting cheaper than in the past, but we can give light to residence and commercial customers cheaper, and we propose to share the saving with our customers.

Even without this reduction, which will go into effect the day the council contracts with us for street lighting, the charge of $12,000 a year for 800 lights all night every night is lower than the cost to the taxpayers under municipal ownership. When the saving through reduced rates to residence and business consumers is added to the saving in the cost of street lighting alone, it seems to us that the advantages of our proposal are too great to be ignored by the voters.

JACKSONVILLE RY. & LIGHT CO.

during his remaining three years.

Hugh Maxey.

Hugh Maxey came to Illinois last fall from Mt. Vernon, the home of so many athletes who have come to Illinois college. Maxey played center on the Mt. Vernon high school team and consequently was not a novice at the game when he appeared on Illinois field. The most important duty of the center is to pass the ball properly to the players in the back field. Maxey did the passing in fine style and few, indeed, were the fumbles which came as a result of his errors. On defense Maxey held his own with any center whom he met. Like his classmates of the first year in college, he will play in many another grueling battle for his alma mater.

Calvin Atchison.

Calvin Atchison, also from Mt.
Vernon, and a member of the freshman class, was the only wholly inexperienced player on the squad of fourteen men who played the games of the season. He learned rapidly, however, and before the season was very far advanced he was capable of filling a line position. He was used at center and at right guard as conditions required. At center his passing was accurate and his defensive playing improved with each game.
At guard his playing was characterized by intelligent effort and aggressiveness. He shares the happy lot of his classmates in having three more years in which to carry the football to victory for Illinois.

LETTER FROM BERLIN.

(By Associated Press)

The Bavarian people will pay well for the luxury of being ruled by a real king. Under the 27 year reign of which has just come to an end, they paid Ludwig, as prime regent, $85,000 a year; as king he will cost them $1,500,000 every twelve months.

This sum includes certain comfortable allowances to the new king's sons and daughters, who up to the present time have received nothing from the public treasury. Now Crown Prince Rappert will get $98,500 a year; Prince Franz, brother-in-law of new American Duchess of Crocy, who was Miss Nancy Leishman, gets $34,000; Prince Karl, who is unmarried, $26,000 and the five princesses Adelgrunde, Hildegarde, Wilrod, Helmutridis and Gundelinde, $6,300 each.

Other expenses upon the new civil list bring the total cost of maintaining the royal family, exclusive of the amount spent on the insane King Otto, to $1,716,434, or about 25 cents per head of the Bavarian population of Bavaria per year. Prussians have to pay per capita for their royalty only half as much.

The incomes of the new royalties will be supplemented by the revenues from the private fortunes of the Wittelsbach house, which, in spite of the great sums spent by the mad King Ludwig II. in castle and theatre building and in beautifying the city of Munich, are still immense.

The plan to organize an American chamber of commerce in St. Petersburg has attracted much attention from German business men, who see in it a systematic effort to eliminate Germany from its present position as intermediary of the trade between Russia and the United States.

Most of Russia's imports from America are first sent to Hamburg and Bremen, whence they are transhipped to Riga and St. Petersburg. Another step toward displacing Germany as a point of transit for this commerce is seen in a projected line of steamships between Gothenburg, Sweden and Harwich, England. According to reports from Stockholm, the purpose of this new line is to divert, in part, Russia's trade with western Europe and the United States to the route through Sweden, for which favorable through rates over the Finnish and Russian railways will be arranged.

In another direction, too, there is a prospect that Germany's trade relations with Russia may become disturbed. Every year about 225,000 Polish laborers leave Russia to take summer work on German farms, returning to their homes at the end of the season. Recently, a Russian commission came to Germany with the ostensible purpose of studying the economic situation of these laborers. In the German press, however, it is asserted that the real object of the Russian government is to prepare the way for prohibiting this temporary emigration of laborers, unless the German government will make big concessions to Russia in the forthcoming negotiations for a new commercial treaty.

The Berlin police have just arrested a remarkable counterfeiter, barely in time to prevent the circulation of twenty mark notes (approximately equal in value to an American $5 bill) printed by the same processes used in the Imperial bank and so perfect that only an expert with a microscope could have detected them. So clever was the counterfeiter that he had taken advantage of suggestions in a circular of warning issued by the authorities against his first batch of notes, to improve his product almost beyond the possibility of detection.

Some months ago nine of the notes found their way to the bank and were stamped as dangerous counterfeits. The customary circular of warning was sent out, describing the notes and the particulars in which they differed from genuine currency. The man arrested on the charge of making and uttering these notes is 40 years old and a painter and decorator by trade. By years of study he became an expert in photography, color processes and engraving. He then turned out a first batch of thirteen twenties, all of which he passed in a day. From the circular sent out by the Imperial bank he learned in what details these notes were faulty, and set about studying the bank's processes. When arrested he had made presses and plates for printing notes precisely as they are printed by the Imperial bank. Four of the first thirteen notes are still in circulation.

A high tribute to President Wilson is paid by the Frankfort Gazette, which, however, takes occasion to criticize the American government's Mexican policy. The paper declares that "the place for this idealist is in political life, and we should consider ourselves fortunate if we had at the head of the German government an idealist of such will power and progressive tendencies."

Celebrated Italian Teacher of Children Touring United States.

Dr. Maria Montessori, the noted Italian educator of young children, has arrived in this country to go on a lecture tour. She was invited to the White House by President Wilson. A wonderful school or laboratory in Rome for the study of child psychology and child development is the aim of Dr. Montessori, the originator of the Montessori method. Dr. Montessori states that part of the funds for the laboratory project will be raised by her lecture tour in this country. "But I will not undertake the work without a sum sufficient to guarantee the life of such an institution for ten years," she says. She expresses the hope that in that time she may be able to develop the teaching method which has been so successful for children between two and one-half and seven years of age to apply to pupils of older years.

IF CHILD IS CROSS, FEVERISH AND SICK

Look Mother—If Tongue is Coated, Cleanse Little Bowels With "California Syrup of Figs."

Children love this "fruit laxative" and nothing else cleanses the tender stomach, liver and bowels so nicely.

A child simply will not stop playing to empty the bowels, and the result is, they become tightly clogged with waste, liver gets sluggish, stomach sour, then your little one becomes cross, half-sick, feverish, don't eat, sleep or act naturally, breath is bad, system full of cold, has sore throat, stomach-ache or diarrhoea. Listen, Mother! See if tongue is coated, then give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the constipated waste, sour bile and undigested blood passes out of the system, and you have a well, playful child again.

Millions of mothers give "California Syrup of Figs" because it is perfectly harmless; children love it, and it never fails to act on the stomach, liver and bowels.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs" which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeiters sold here! Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.—Adv.

SEEK TO BETTER CONDITION FOR THE ANIMALS.

International Anti-Vivisection Society Is Holding Sessions in Washington, D. C.

Washington, Dec. 8.—Delegates from all parts of Europe and America gathered in this city today for the opening of the International Anti-Vivisection and Animal Protection congress, which will continue its sessions through the greater part of the week. The congress, which is in behalf of all the members of the animal kingdom, is the first of its kind ever held in this country. It seeks to conserve and minimize injury to dogs, birds, horses, poultry, wild animals and game. Vivisection will be a leading subject of discussion and the hope is expressed that the sentiment aroused by the discussion will result in the early enactment of vivisection legislation by congress.

Among other subjects to be taken up by the congress are those dealing with reforms in slaughtering methods, the question of homes for lost and strayed animals and humane methods of destroying animal life.

Committee meetings and other preliminary business occupied the time of the delegates today. This afternoon there was a reception for the visitors at the Raleigh hotel. GAVE REASONS FOR CHARITY.

The 7th was tuberculosis Sunday and in the Congregational church Dr Post delivered a very practical and earnest sermon. He didn't plead at all for charity but put the matter on far higher grounds. "He said the man who has anything he may at all reasonably spare, even with a deal of self denial, owes his worthy, needy brother something just as much as he owes the money on a note he has made."

It is not a favor to the management of good causes to give to them it is a favor on their part to manage the enterprises they have in hand and others owe them enough to maintain the enterprises in which they are engaged. He spoke well of Passavant hospital, the anti-tuberculosis society, the Y. M. C. A., Associated Charities, Free Kindergarten and Salvation Army as especially worthy of funds without slighting any other good cause.

Copyright, 1913, by American Press Association

The scene in the house of representatives when President Wilson read his message to the new congress was thoroughly impressive. Mr. Wilson has received the custom established by George Washington of reading his messages in person to the national legislators. He believes that the chief executive and the lawmakers should come in personal contact more frequently than has been the custom in the past.

GIRL'S STRANGE POWER PUZZLE TO PHYSICIANS.

Replies to Questions by Pictures or Written Messages Appearing On Her Skin Is the Story.

Paris, Dec. 8.—Replying to various questions by means of pictures and messages in written characters appearing on her skin is the amazing faculty which has been developed by a 12-year-old schoolgirl residing in the village of Bussus-Bussuel, near Abbeyville. Medical men and other scientists throughout France are interesting themselves in the case and all of them so far have confessed themselves puzzled to account for the girl's strange power.

The inexplicable phenomena, which first manifested themselves during the past summer, have since been repeated with constantly increased distinctness. The first of the series of pictures was a ladder which was vividly outlined on the girl's arm. Then followed the representations of a tree, a dog, and, after intervals of several days, a horse and other animals.

These were followed by messages referring to different inhabitants of the village, such as "Fedora will not come this morning," "Victor is sure to be taken for a recruit," and similar statements, imprinted, some on the girl's arms, others on her chest, her shoulders, or her legs and thighs.

This strange faculty, as though not sufficiently mysterious in itself, was later on followed by the even more astounding one of divination. An instance of the possession of this gift, attested by numerous intelligent witnesses, is furnished by a newspaper representative.

The visitor asked the girl if she could tell his Christian name. After a quarter of an hour's silence the girl exclaimed: "Yes, there it is!"

Exposing her leg, there was seen, just above the knee joint, a number of minute markings. These quickly took shape and in the space of a few seconds there appeared, in well formed letters, the name "Henri." This inscription, before it had time to fade away, as they all do after a short space, was duly photographed.

Physicians who have examined the girl pronounce her a perfectly normal child, showing no trace of neurasthenia or of abnormal development.

The Ladies' Aid of Salem church will hold their annual bazaar and oyster supper at the home of Mr. Edward Armstrong, Dec. 10.

A WAY OUT

A Resident of Jacksonville Shows The Way.

There's one effective way to relieve kidney backache. Laxative and plasters may relieve it.

But they seldom reach the cause. Backache is caused to suspect the kidneys.

Doan's Kidney Pills are for disordered kidneys. Jacksonville people back them up. Read a case of it.

J. B. Seaver, blacksmith, 246 E. North St., Jacksonville, Ill., says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills with fine results and I am pleased to recommend them. I had pains in the small of my back, especially when I tried to stoop, after stooping. I used Doan's Kidney Pills and they stopped the pains. They also regulated the action of my kidneys."

If your back aches—if your kidneys bother you, don't simply ask for kidney remedy—ask distinctly for Doan's Kidney Pills, the same that Mr. Seaver had—the remedy backed by home testimony. 50¢ all stores. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

ETHEL VON WALDRON, WITH FISK O'HARA "IN OLD DUBLIN."

"In Old Dublin," which will be presented at the Grand Opera house Friday, December 12, by Fiske O'Hara and his excellent company of players is said to be the most delightful Irish play produced in many years. Its story deals with the dashing gentry of the early part of the last century, when Dublin held its own as one of the fashion centers of Europe and the home of sports of all description. Augustus Pitou, the author, has woven a story of love around an exciting yacht race for a royal trophy and a very accurate picture of life in the Emerald Isle at that period will be found in the play. Mr. O'Hara has the role of Neil Powers, the designer of the winning yacht, and he invests it with his usual grace and artistic personality. He introduces a number of fine songs in the piece, among which are some of the old melodies of Thomas Moore. His beautiful tenor voice will be heard in them to the best advantage.

WORLD'S LATEST FINANCIAL AND MARKET NEWS

SENTIMENT IMPROVES ON STOCK EXCHANGE

PRONOUNCED DISPOSITION TO TRADE ON LONG SIDE OF MARKET.

Realizing Sales and Weakness for Special Stocks Bring Reaction in the Afternoon—Easier Tone Prevails in Time Money Market and Call Loans Are Renewed at Five Per Cent.

New York, Dec. 8.—A better feeling prevailed on the stock exchange today and there was a more pronounced disposition to trade on the long side. Realizing sales and weakness of specials, stocks brought on a reaction in the afternoon.

The explanation generally advanced on the street for today's upturn was that auditors had placed a bullish interpretation upon a statement attributed to Attorney General McReynolds. The improvement in the money situation as shown in Saturday's unexpectedly good bank statement, was another bullish factor. There was an easier tone in the time money market and call loans were renewed at five per cent, although rates for call accommodations stiffened before the end of the day. New Haven's shrinkage of $883,000 in net corporate income for October caused a renewed decline in that stock, which fell to fraction above its lowest.

Sugar fell four points. Canadian Pacific was in steady demand and rose 3 1/2. Its advance was attended by a revival of the often heard rumor of extra dividends.

BASEBALL MEN IN HARMONY.

New York, Dec. 8.—Magnates of the National league gathering here today for their annual meeting ventured the prediction that no friction would develop during the meeting and that everything would be harmonious. The meeting is scheduled to begin at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon and will be preceded by the customary meeting of the board of directors. The chief item of business will be the formal election of Governor Tener of Pennsylvania to succeed Thomas J. Lynch as president of the league. Various matters left over since the close of last season will be cleaned up and there probably will be one or less discussions concerning some proposed changes in the scoring rules. A number of the managers will attend the meeting along with the club owners and some trades in players may result from their coming together but to leave the trading go over until the spring meeting of the league.

How to Bankrupt the Doctors.

A prominent New York physician says, "If it were not for the thin stockings and thin soled shoes worn by women the doctors would probably be bankrupt." When you contract a cold do not wait for it to develop into pneumonia but treat it at once. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is intended especially for coughs and colds, and has won a wide reputation by its cures of these diseases. It is most effective and is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by all dealers.—Adv.

FROM NEBRASKA.

James E. Winter who has been visiting his mother, Mrs. T. N. Parker of this city expects to return home soon to Aurora, Nebraska. He says that corn with them in that region is not a very reliable crop but alfalfa is rapidly coming to the front. He says they cut five crops of hay each season, cut three crops of hay and one for seed which out there is very good and heretofore has held at from 12 to 15 dollars a bushel. A dry season is the best for seed so that it has been overdone out there causing the article to fall in price and he says he heard it was going as low as five dollars a bushel. They get about six tons to the acre each year and it is easy to estimate what it is worth. He says they have no trouble in getting a stand.

INCREASE INSUPPLY SWEEPS WHEAT ADVANCE

UNTIL SUPPLY FIGURES ARE POSTED, WHEAT IS STRONG.

Stocks Afloat on the Lakes Are Responsible for the Bulge in the Visible Supply Total—Cold Weather Causes Sharp Break in the Corn Pit—Oats Fairly Steady—Heavy Selling Brings Setback in Provisions.

Chicago, Dec. 8.—Unexpected increase of the visible supply swept away an advance today in wheat. The market closed steady at the same as Saturday night to a shade decline. Corn lost 1/2c @ 5c to 1 1/2c net, oats finished unchanged to 1/2c off and provisions down 2 1/2c to 10c.

Until the visible supply figures were posted, wheat had an appearance of strength due chiefly to rain spilling to a further extent the Argentine harvest. Not much attention was given to the possible effect of cold weather on the growing crop in the United States. Freezing temperatures prevailed however in Oklahoma and Northern Texas where wheat was reported jointing and in Kansas and Nebraska where the ground is soaked.

Stocks afloat on the lakes were responsible in the main for the bulge in the visible supply total. A large amount of grain has not been unloaded, congestion at Buffalo, Interlaking. Predictions that the Canadian import duty would be removed soon after the assembling of parliament January 16, acted as an additional weight on prices late in the session.

Corn suffered a sharp break owing to cold weather and a consequent enlargement of offerings from first hands. Some of the speculative bulls sold out and there was no support from shorts. Oats proved relatively steady. The reason seemed to be that lake shipments from Canada had virtually stopped. Although provisions started firm because of an advance in the hog market selling developed sufficiently to bring about a setback. Longs unloaded an unusual amount of ribs.

LITERBERRY.

At the commodious residence of Mr. and Mrs. Ona Crum on last Wednesday afternoon, Mrs. Crum being hostess, was given an important announcement, the most interesting party being present, Miss Kathryn Petefish, who will on the 18th of December, 1913, become the bride of Charles McDonald of north of Jacksonville. The rooms were all decorated in heart shaped designs, the colors being white, red and pink. First on the program was a five minute search for hidden cards, each card bearing a letter of Miss Kathryn's name. Those who found enough cards to form a name were requested to write a verse of poetry, each line to begin with the letters, K, A, T, H, R, Y, N. Miss Lora Petefish and Miss Annabel Crum were awarded prizes; one poem was handed us, that of Miss Crum, which we give:

"Keep ever in mind be she far or near,
A dear little girlie we all hold dear; Tell Charlie to love her and cherish her too, Help him ever and always to be constant and true.

Remember the weeks and months come and go, Years pass! And yet he will still love her so.

Not one but who wishes her happiness true; Everyone wishes him ever true blue."

Next on the program was Cupid's contest; a large ornamented heart of bright real hung on the wall and Cupid's dart was here waiting to be placed in position; the girls were all blindfolded and each one tried to pierce little Mr. Cupid in the right place. Mrs. Earl Rexroat won the prize, for she shot the silver dart right through the center of the big red heart.

The dining room was decorated, as were the other rooms, in heart shaped ornaments of red, pink and white. The table was lovely in china, silver and cut glass; a large heart of red carnations, banked with green, graced the center of the table. Covers were laid for twelve. Place cards announced the happy affair and were hand painted, representing two old ladies nodding and pointing fingers to indicate they knew a great secret; to this card was attached a red silk reticule, in which were slips of white paper bearing the words "Charles and Kathryn," and the date, 18-12, 1913.

The refreshments were dainty and tastefully arranged. Confections were served in heart shaped pink and white cups, tiny and shell-like. About thirty persons partook of the delicate refreshments.

Prizes given were heart shaped, ornamented boxes, filled with fine candy. Those present were Mrs. O. M. Petefish, Mrs. James McDonald, Mrs. J. M. Litter, Mrs. S. H. Crum, Mrs. Talmadge Crum, Mrs. McWilliams, Mrs. Dutrell Crum, Mrs. Earl Underbrink, Mrs. Roy Conover, Mrs. Al. Dunlap, Mrs. Harry Martin, Mrs. Warren Daniels, Mrs. Ed Litter, Mrs. John Daniels, Mrs. Earl Rexroat, Mrs. B. Jones, Mrs. Willard Young, Mrs. Elmer Henderson; and the Misses Annabel Crum, Georgia Litter, Edith Hitchens, May and Grace Myers, May Martin, Lora and Evalyn Petefish, Wilma Crum, Goden Decker, Lillian Bateman, Ruth Bateman, Ruth McDonald and last, but not least by any means, Kathryn Petefish.

Mr. and Mrs. William Dunlap and son Kenneth of New Berlin, visited with Mr. and Mrs. Al Dunlap last Thursday and Friday. Thursday afternoon was a busy time among the ladies of our town, two societies of the ladies aid meeting on the same date. Those of the Christian church met with Mrs. Sarah Collins on Broadway, and the Baptist ladies meeting at Mrs. Earl Underbrinks on East Capitol street.

Master Landis Young is the possessor of a fine pair of rubber boots of which he is exceedingly proud. Master Landis is the only young man in town that wears Red Cross stamps on his boots. We are in receipt of a letter from Douglas Smith of Lents, Oregon. When Mr. Smith lived in the Bend, he was known by more people in the north end of the county than any other person, and the patrons on rural number seven will remember him as one of Uncle Sams best servants; always pleasant and jovial and willing to accommodate his friends. Mr. Smith has just returned from Salem, Ore., where he and seven hundred other people went hop picking. Of course he had a good time and made money. We judge the money part, from the fact that he composed a song while picking hops, and you all know that a singing or whistling man or boy always makes the best worker.

We inclose a copy of the song and hope the editor will print it for the diversion of Doug's old friends and neighbors in Morgan county.

Our office is under obligation to Mrs. W. E. Murray, one among most hospitable and Christian ladies in and around Litterberry for nice fat chicken for our Sunday dinner.

Song of the Livesley Hop Pickers.
(Tune, "Where the River Shannon Flows.")

(First Verse.)
Oh, come, all you needy pickers, Sleep on, you drones and kickers, For we're going to the hop field Each morn at break of day;
And we'll labor there together, In fair or cloudy weather, And we'll whistle as we labor, Just to drive dull care away.

(Chorus) Where Livesley's hops are growing, Sure 'tis there we're bound to go;
And the way we'll make a showing You can get will not be slow.
You may tell this to your honey, How we'll hustle won't be funny,
For you see we need the money Like the baker needs his dough.

(Second Verse)
Now, then, all you lads with lassies, Pray make no idle passes, But just knuckle down and hustle If a fair one you would win; For no matter what you tell her, She'll take the other feller, And will calmly throw you over If you can't produce the tin.

—Compliments of
D. Smith, Lents.

STOMACH UPSET?

Get At The Real Cause—Take Dr. Edward's Olive Tablets.

That's what thousands of stomach sufferers are doing now. Instead of taking tonics, or trying to patch up a poor digestion, they are attacking the real cause of the ailment—clogged liver and disordered bowels.

Dr. Edward's Olive Tablets arouse the liver in a soothing, healing way, when the liver and bowels are performing their natural functions, away goes indigestion and stomach troubles.

If you have a bad taste in your mouth, tongue coated, appetite poor, lazy, don't care feeling, no ambition or energy, troubled with undigested food, you should take Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edward's Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. They do the work without griping, cramps or pain.

Take one or two at bedtime for quick relief, so you can eat what you like. At 10c and 25c per box. The Olive Tablet Company, Cincinnati, Ohio.—Adv.

SERIOUS CATARRH

YIELDS TO HYOMEL

Do not let this serious disease extend along the delicate mucous membrane, gradually going from the nose to the throat, thence into the bronchial tubes and downward until the lungs are reached.

There is no other treatment for catarrh that is like Hyomel or just as good. None can take its place, none give such a quick, effective and sure relief and at so little cost—furthermore your money will be refunded if you are not benefitted. Hyomel, as sold by all druggists, reaches the most remote cells of the air passages, kills the catarrh germs, soothes and heals the irritated mucous membrane.

Begin its use now—today, and see how quickly the droppings into the throat, the discharges from the nose, sniffing and all other symptoms of catarrh are overcome; and remember—no stomach drugging—you breathe it. The complete outfit containing inhaler and bottle of liquid costs but $1.00. Extra bottles of liquid, if later needed, 50 cents.

FADS AND FASHIONS.

New York, Dec. 8.—Fashion, so far as New York city is concerned, has spoken its last word, at the horse show of last week. Of course, some novelties may come over from Paris later, but it may be taken for granted that these few odd novelties will not materially effect the styles as indicated by the great costume show during horse show week. The display was gorgeous, even more so than on previous occasions, which is principally due to the fact that never before were there so many beautiful and rich materials to choose from than at the present time. Velvets, silks, satins and brocades, laces and the most exquisite furs were shown in a bewildering and dazzling array in various combinations.

No doubt there were a great many bizarre costumes displayed at French resorts and race meetings, yet there was a slight difference. The eccentricities had been toned down sufficiently not to offend American ideas of decency and good taste. Aside from a few decidedly outre costumes worn by some women who place a higher value upon conspicuousness than upon good taste, the costumes seen at the horse show were rather pleasing and attractive.

One of the most striking features of the display was the extensive use of velvet for costumes of every description. Black velvet seemed to be the general favorite, but velvets in other colors were also seen. All were of great beauty and highly effective. Velvet was used for gowns, tunics and coats, for wraps and quite frequently for hats and accessories. Another striking feature was the lavish display of furs of the most beautiful colors, texture and finish. Sable, black blue and white fox, ermine and others furs of the costliest kind were shown in profusion and side by side with these some of the less costly and pretensions furs, used either as material or trimming for gowns, coats, cloaks or hats.

Skirts are apparently as clinging as ever, although much more material is put into them, and corseages are arranged in flat, drooping folds; but from the hips to the knees, pleats and flounces and puffs are arranged. On some of the latest models for evening gowns tunics appear, which are nothing short of ballet dancers' skirts. These curious tunics are, as a rule, made of tulle and one pleated flounce is posed over another until the whole affair looks exactly like the old fashioned ballet skirt.

One of the novelties of the season is the pannier tunic which is caught up in two places. It was originated recently by one of the Paris designers who since then has made a specialty of such skirts. It is scarcely necessary to mention that this fashion is becoming only to the ultra slender women. For fat women it would be utterly impossible. Even on very slender women these tunics invariably look freakish, and their adoption may be considered a fair indication of the wearer's lack of good taste.

One of the most freakish novelties of the winter's season is the "Houppelande" coat which originated in Paris and was placed on the market by one of the noted designers of that city. The "Houppelande" is a fairly long coat with a double hem at the bottom, made flaring by stiffening, and is clearly an outgrowth of the Persian tunic which is still maintaining its popularity. Some of the more eccentric houppelande models are lavishly trimmed with frills of taffeta or velvet and with bands of sable. Some of these coats are exceedingly wide at the hem, and all of them are so arranged that they stand away from the figure below the hips. The genuine houppelande coat of olden days was rather short—shorter than the models now being shown in our best atteliers. They also were elaborately trimmed, with frills and ruchings and finished off with wide sleeves.

The new wraps look complicated, but they are not, after one is shown how to make them. It is not necessary, in order to be fashionable, that one should have that line of gathers straight across the back, which cuts the figure in half, and which one sees one half the new coats, but it is a good touch if one can manage it. The long lines of drapery from shoulder to hem are equally good if one manages to provide enough fullness for the waist and shoulders and to swirl the material over the hips and bring it up to the shoulders in front. Few of the new evening wraps are long, although the accepted new movement is toward a wrap that comes to the ankles. This style will probably not become popular until later in the season.

Women are loath to give up collarless blouses just because the weather is growing colder. Heavy coats made an ugly line next against bare necks. Furs soil the skin, and doubtless contact with the skin is not good for the furs. There are some very good net and lace ruffs and collars that can be put about the neck under the coat and so also under the fur collar to protect both the fur and the skin. One of these is a modification of the little gold tasseled folded band of net worn last year to protect the coat collar. It is, in fact, the same sort of band of folded net, finished at each end with a gold tassel. But there is an upstanding, boned ruff of pleated lace fastened to the part of the net band that goes about the neck. This upstanding lace protects the neck and the collar at the same time.

Yellow is much in these days. Last spring yellow was first extensively used in lingerie. Ribbons of yellow were worn into all sorts of underwear and negligees. Then yellow chiffon and crepe de chine were used for the making of rest robes and petticoats and chemises and nightgowns.

yellow waists of chiffon and crepe de chine were next worn. And then evening frocks and afternoon frocks of yellow appeared. There are even some yellow tweed street suits. Yellow is usually a becoming color, if it is skillfully handled. But there are not many skins that are improved by coming in direct contact with yellow. This fact is now understood by most dressmakers. In all sorts all of the gowns and blouses of yellow there is a generous use of cream or white tulle at the throat. There is usually a touch of black somewhere of these yellow garments. A little black velvet at the wrist or elbow or belt, or a knot of black in the drapery of the skirt, give character to the color that might otherwise seem monotonous.

Some of the new sweaters in Angora and Shelton have collars and cuffs of fur, and some are edged about the bottom with fur. White is always a popular color and some of the brilliant red, yellow and purple shades are also much worn.

One of the most effective evening wraps of the present season is that known as the Manon. It is almost an exact copy of the famous cloaks worn by the unhappy Maxon Lescaut.

Save $5

The sale we announced has started off most satisfactorily, proving that the men of this community are not averse to wearing stylish, tailor-made clothes, especially when they can save Five Dollars by doing it. Don't wait! We mean business! Read and act at once. Let us make that suit in time for Christmas. You will be pleased and will have the extra five for something else.

What We Are Doing, and How It Affects You

We recommend for your special attention our regular $20 and $25 suitings at $15 and $20 as being the most popular values and about the qualities and weights usually called for at this time of year

We are making a straight reduction of FIVE DOLLARS on every suit—suits that we have heretofore been selling at from $20 up, and sound values at the price. Think what this will mean to you—You will be able to wear a finely tailored garment, cut to fit you from a guaranteed all-wool pattern of your own selection, for less than you would pay for an inferior ready-made garment. No man now will have an excuse for wearing more or less ill-fitting ready-made clothes. The cheapest ready-made suit that you could afford to wear would cost you $15, while we will make you our regular value $20.00 suit for $15—and at this same reduction up through the higher grades of cloth, $5.00 off the price of every suit. Positively, no detail will be slighted. Workmanship, linings, etc., will be the very best.

Every piece of goods, every pattern that we shall show you is the latest of its kind, whether foreign or domestic, and guaranteed to be pure wool. Here you will have hundreds of patterns to select from—all new worsteds, serges, chevots, cassimeres, saxons, etc., in the latest colors and shades. Not a bolt of our large stock of woolsens will be withheld from you, and here you will see the whole cloth—not a mere scrap of a sample, and it will be unfolded and spread in such shape that you can judge how it will look when made up.

Remember, bear this in mind—its $5.00 off the regular price of any suit you select, $20.00 suits at $15.00, $25.00 suits $20.00. Positively cheaper than read-made clothes, and think how much better they look and wear.

ELKS HOLD ANNUAL MEMORIAL EXERCISES

Impressive Ceremony Observed at Home With Large Number in Attendance—Rev. Clyde Darsie and J. J. Reeve, the Speakers.

Jacksonville lodge No. 682, B. P. O. E. held their annual memorial services Sunday evening in their home, a large number of the members and their friends being present. The lodge room presented a pleasing effect being beautifully decorated for the occasion by the use of American beauty roses, carnations and ferns.

The program opened with a march skillfully executed by Miss Deane Obermeyer, which was followed by the opening exercises of the lodge. The audience joined in singing "The Cal Selection 'Come Unto Me'" by Coenen, which was to have been given by Mrs. Hartmann, but an account of illness she was not able to be present. Her place was acceptably taken by Miss Helen Jones, a student at the Woman's college. Miss McKay and Miss Jones also sang "They shall hunger no more," by Gaul.

"Unbroken Ties" was the subject of an address given by Rev. Clyde Darsie. He said in part: "Special influences of unbroken ties can't be analyzed or explained and do not stop with death. Does it please the dead for us to remember them? Yes, unless death reverses all the laws of our human nature, for men erect marble shafts and endless memorials that they may not be forgotten when they pass from earth. Each one of us wants to be remembered and unless death brings radical changes those who have gone on before are grateful that we recall their memory."

"Does it do us good to remember the dead? Yes, unless gratitude is a vice each one of us holds as a heritage that has come to us from those who have gone on before. Shall we then accept this legacy selfishly; shall we not rather receive this as a sacred trust and pass it on to our neighbors and friends?"

The speaker closed by giving part of a selection by George Elliott: "Oh, may I join the choir invisible, of those immortal dead, Who live again in lives made better by their presence."

"Feed pure love beget the smiles, that has no cruelty; Be the sweet presence of a good diffused and in diffusion ever more intense."

So shall I join the choir invisible, Whose music is the gladness of the world."

After another musical number Brother J. J. Reeve gave a most excellent address on "Our Absent Brothers," paying a high tribute of respect to the memory of the seventeen members who have passed away. They are F. C. Winslow, H. R. Armstrong, F. C. Coe, J. A. Adams, E. W. Flanagan, Lafayette Seiberger, W. C. Anderson, Orris C. Berry, C. E. Burkholder, James C. Kain, James Heineghann, R. T. Matthews, John R. Davis, F. Niessen, J. E. Scott, E. S. Greenleaf and Brock Mayfield.

The regular closing exercises of the lodge were used and the benediction was pronounced by Rev. Clyde Darsie.

CORNERSTONE IS READY TO BE LAID

EIGHTH GRADE BUILDING READY FOR CEREMONY.

Exercises Will be Held This Afternoon with Special Program Arranged.—Board of Education holds Meeting to Arrange for Event.

A special meeting of the Board of Education was held Monday night relative to the laying of the corner stone today of the 8th grade building, which will take place this afternoon at 3 o'clock. All members of the board were present. Member Bavington, chairman of the building committee moved that Dr. L. H. Clampt be secured to write a history of the 8th grade building from its inception, the same to be read by him this afternoon. The same was carried. Supt. Gore was instructed to secure a list of all the pupils of the public schools and this list will be deposited in the corner stone, also a copy of the pay roll of the teachers, and other papers and mementoes. It is also planned for the students to take a part in the afternoon's program and the high school band will furnish part of the music. The invocation will be given by Rev. Walter E. Spoons of Northminster church.

Among those present at the meeting were Miss Laura White, principal of the 8th grade and Miss Anna Brown of the Manual Training Department. Miss White was heard in a brief speech. She has had the honor of being at the head of the eighth grade department since its inception. The final arrangements for the day were left to a committee composed of Member Bavington, Supt. Gore, Principal Collins, Miss White.

The matter of the extension tax levy was brought up. The county clerk stated that he would be willing to go ahead if he could get the opinion of the attorney general or a court order on which to base his action. The city clerk was ordered to file a friendly mandamus suit and also to draw on the treasury, the sum of $8 as fee for filing the same. The bid of John Wolke relative to the building of fire proof concrete corridors for the sum of $2742.00 was accepted. This work will necessitate some changes in the stairways. Architect Buckingham was ordered to inspect the corner stone to see that everything was in readiness for the laying. As stated before the exercises will be held at 3 o'clock and the public is cordially invited to be present.

TELLS OF DANGERS IN WELL KNOWN NOVEL.

In "The Viper in the Cup," Sunday evening, the Rev. H. R. Neely, rector of Trinity church, told why, in his opinion, the popular novel of Winston Churchill's, "The Inside of the Cup," is unsound in doctrine, fallacious in principle and poisonous to true faith. Unbeliever, Rev. Mr. Neely said, is the viper to be guarded against. It is the unbelief of Mr. Churchill which makes his doubt the efficacy of the church in the world's salvation. One should not trifle with unbelief. It makes workers in the church half-hearted, and poisons at the source the springs of spiritual life.

Submitting to the Inevitable

The different cloak manufacturers on Dec. 1, 2 and 3 held their Annual Clearance Sale. This year their concessions were a total and absolute surrender to the peculiarly unusual weather conditions.

It happened to have been our lot to start in the Cloak and Suit business just at its unfoldment and to have followed it closely in all the different phases of its remarkable development.

Never in the last 20 years have the weather conditions been more unfavorable and never has there been more clean and desirable merchandise thrown on the market at such ruinous prices.

Our knowledge of the distribution facilities of this store led us to purchase largely with perfect confidence in the belief that these hundreds of cloaks would be sold in Jacksonville and vicinity.

A fact to be remembered, is that being sole agents for the PRINTZESS garments, we are the only ones empowered to show their goods at reduced prices. All cloaks are priced in six groups. Hundreds in all to select from with perfect confidence in the styles and guaranteed wearing qualities.

CONTEST IN ADDITION

Students of Public Schools Will Enter Into Friendly Rivalry For Honors—Ideas of Business Men Are Solicited.

If plans work out which Superintendent W. A. Gore has in mind, a contest in addition will be held at the high school after the holidays. For several days the superintendent has been visiting the ward schools and giving 120 problems of three figures in arithmetic, holding a stopwatch on the pupils to ascertain their speed. The facts are that a large number of the pupils are quick at handling figures and it was this idea which lead the superintendent to think that a contest in addition would be beneficial. Opinions have also been secured from different business men of the city, and the interest among them in mathematical problems is larger than thought to be. According to arrangements contests will be held in the different class rooms and the four best adders will be selected to compete in the larger contest which will be held at the high school building. By this method the parents can gain some idea of what the pupils are doing in this branch of study and it is not at all unlikely that suggestions from the business men as to what is most needed in their lines of business in the way of figuring, will be used as a part of the regular course.
